Explanatory Notes on new passport requirements

The 2010 passport carries a number of changes from previous versions. These changes are listed below and should be followed carefully. The layout and ordering of the passport and its sections has been standardised and should not be changed in any way.

Section 1: Information on variety(s), year of harvest and store or bin number should be completed on all parcels for food sector end users, eg. flour millers, maltsters, breakfast cereal manufacturers. Buyer's advice should be sought if in any doubt. Loading date is a requirement on all parcels.

Section 2: This section has previously been carried on passports in different variations. The standard format for recording should now be used.

Section 3: Previously section 2, the wording in this section remains unaltered.

Section 4: Previously section 1, this section has not been changed.

Section 5: Previously section 3 the layout has been re-ordered and a test result box for zeralenone has been added. Requirements for testing remain unaltered but buyer's advice should be sought if in any doubt.

Section 6: Previously an un-numbered section, it has been re-ordered and the sections to which each signature refers has been made clearer.

Section 7: Previously section 4, there are no new requirements.

Section 8: Previously un-numbered this section is unaltered
